

Miami University Hamilton's
Office of Multicultural Services presents...

This one-woman stage adaptation, is based largely on columns and National Public Radio commentaries collected in Kathy Y. Wilson's book and is rooted in straightening old (black) lies told about "bad hair," it lampoons the buffoonery of acquiring Euro-centric beauty at the hands of Asian nail shop owners and at the risk of natural black beauty; throws a strobe light on black homophobia, intra-racial bigotry and the ridiculousness of the white gaze forever pathologizing blackness.
