

Open House at University Hall

The community is invited to an Open House at the newly renovated University Hall. The Open House will be held from 5p.m. to 6:30p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 16. The event is free and open to the public. A special ribbon cutting ceremony will be held at 5:30p.m. in front of the building. The community is welcome to then tour the building and learn about educational opportunities.

University Hall was purchased by Miami University from International Paper, Inc. in 2002. The 24,000 square foot building houses the Department of Nursing and the Department of Business Technology.

World renowned scholar to receive Dolibois History Prize

The third annual John E. Dolibois History Prize will be awarded to eminent scholar and author Christopher R. Browning on Thursday, November 18, beginning at 7:30p.m. in Parrish Auditorium. A gala reception will follow. The event is free and open to the public; no tickets are required. Browning will speak on the topic of "The Holocaust's Perpetrators: Attempted Explanations of History's Greatest Crime."

According to Dr. Michael Carrafiello, director of The Michael J. Colligan History Project, "Christopher Browning is the world's most widely consulted academic expert on the Holocaust, having testified before the United States Congress and the Court of Queen's Bench in the United Kingdom."

Browning has also authored two of the most important books on the Holocaust, Ordinary Men and The Origins of the Final Solution. In addition, he holds an endowed chair at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill as Frank Porter Graham Professor of History.

The John E. Dolibois History Prize was first presented to its namesake in 2002. The prize is awarded to outstanding historians who have made extraordinary contributions to the discipline.

Marketing director awarded

Miami Hamilton's Office of Development, Marketing and Public Relations received two district awards from the National Council of Marketing and Public Relations (NCMPR) during its October conference. Marketing Director Michele Dienno received a Gold Medallion of Excellence for The Road Scholar Handbook. The handbook is a free publication for all Miami Hamilton students that features a daily calendar and assignment pages. It is full of important campus information and dates to help students organize their year.

The second award was a Bronze Medallion of Excellence for the cable television spots advertising campus visits. The fun ad features a Volkswagen Bug and was created by Dienno and Craig Rouse, supervisor of video production for Miami.

MUH technology study invites community input

Miami Hamilton welcomes community input as it conducts a campus technology study with the objective of creating a comprehensive strategic plan. A Web site has been established for students, faculty, staff and community members to input comments and suggestions regarding the technology on campus. An in-depth knowledge of technology is not required to participate in this survey. Log on to www.ham.muohio.edu/itstudy.

In addition, a series of focus groups will be conducted. Focus groups will be held Nov. 8: 11a.m. for staff members; 12:15 p.m. for faculty; and 1:30p.m. for students.

Focus groups also will be conducted Nov. 9: 3p.m. for faculty; 4:15p.m. for staff and 5:15p.m. for students. The sessions will last for one hour. All are welcome to attend these one hour sessions to be held in Schwarm Hall. For more information, contact 785-3195.
